

A week of evidences

In depth in the Humanitarian Encyclopedia

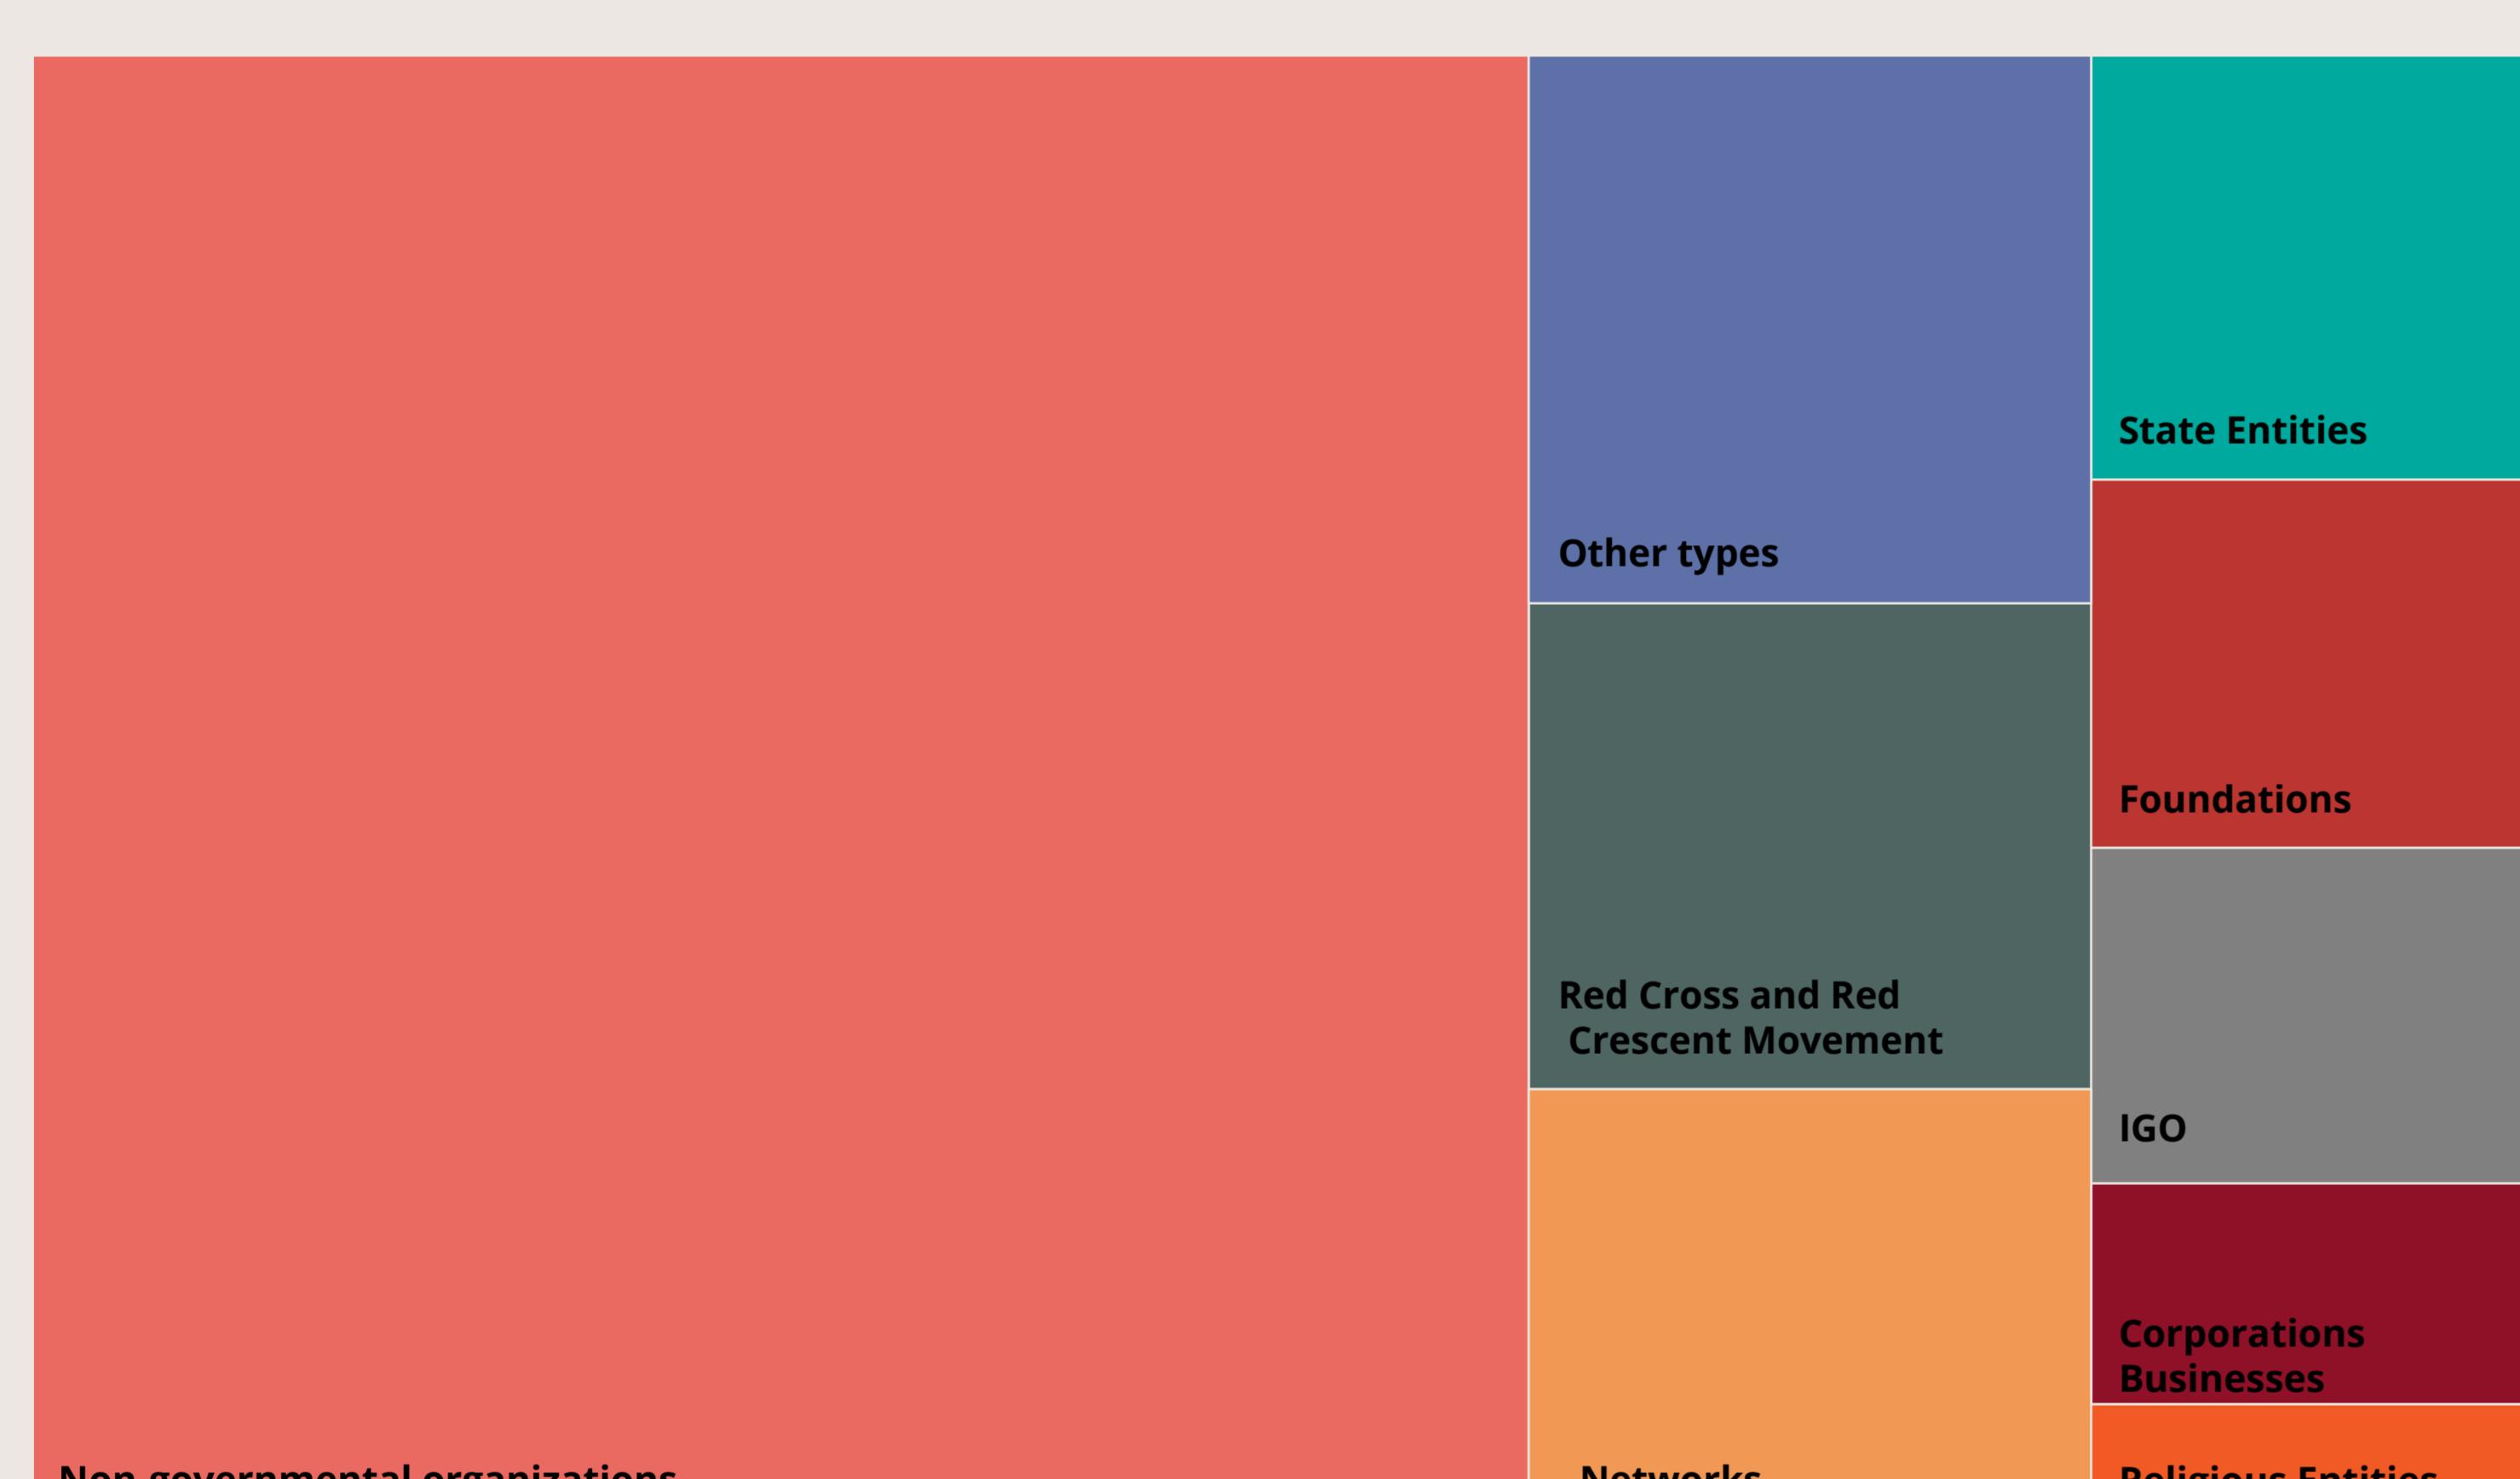

6-12 November
HEW 2017
Humanitarian Evidence Week

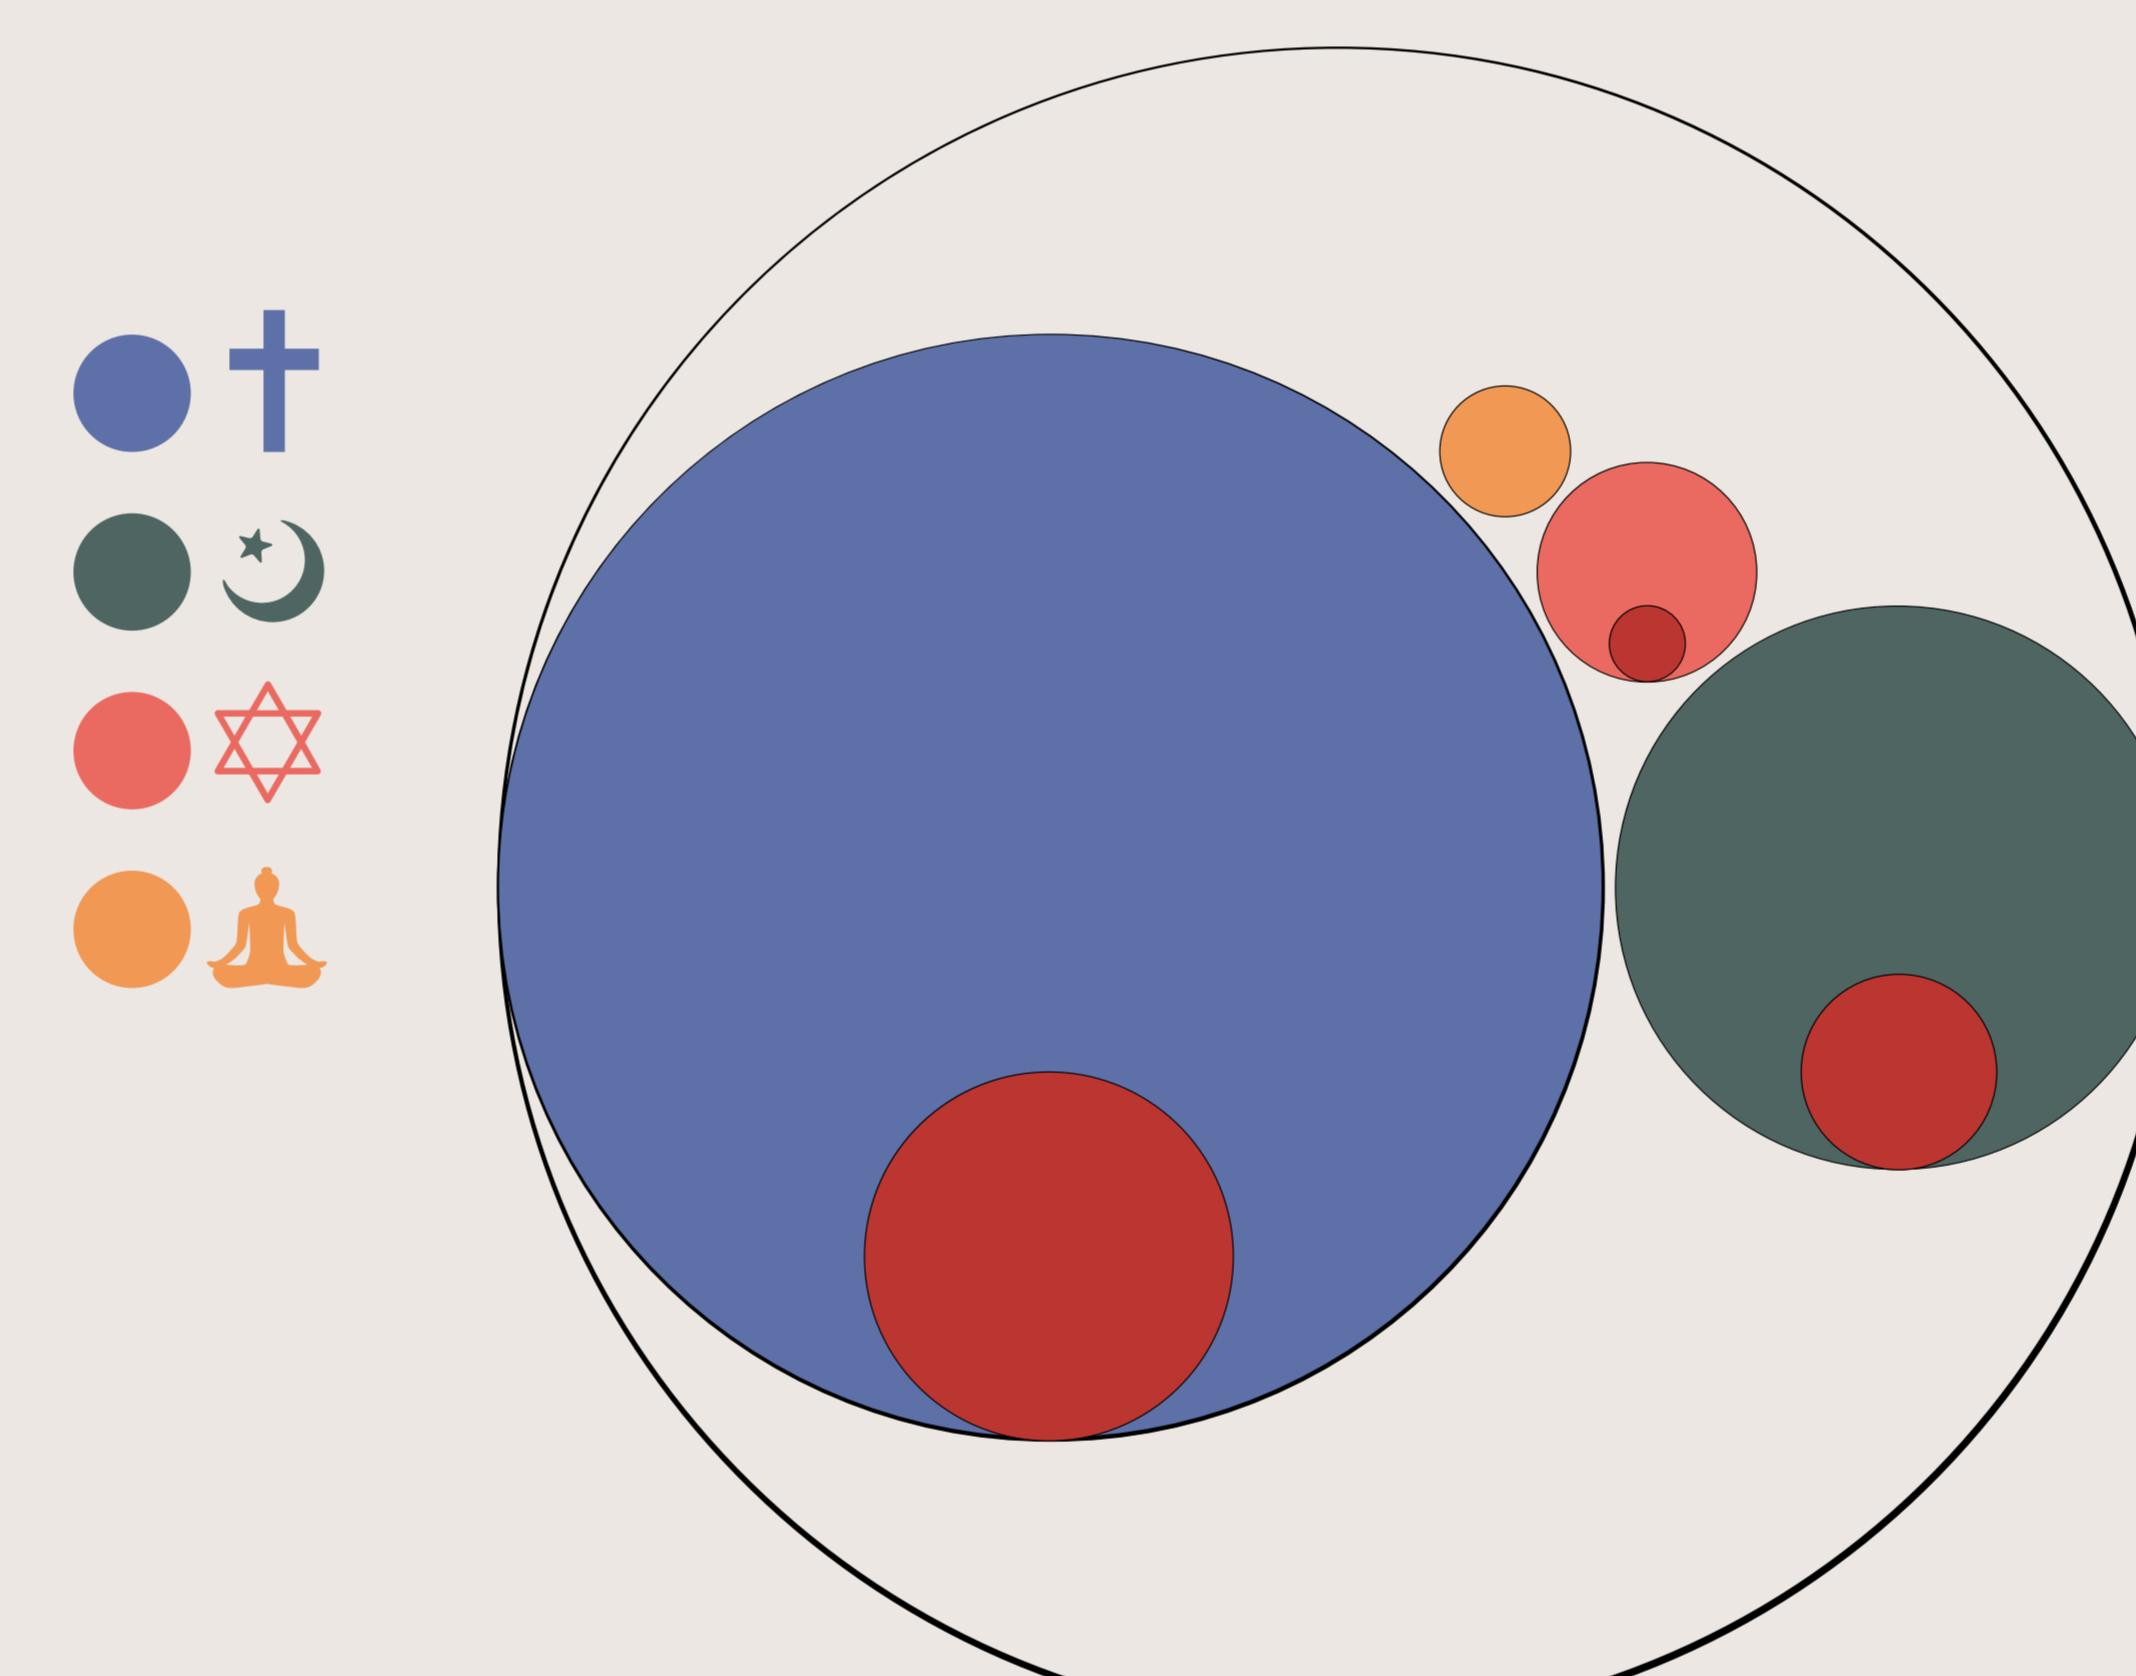

As part of the Humanitarian Evidence Week, we will explain how the Humanitarian Encyclopedia intends to gather and analyse the diversity of humanitarian languages. From November 7th to 12th 2017, we have delivered, three times a day, initial evidence on the variation of terms used in humanitarian action. Based on an analysis of the geographical, sectoral and organisational diversity of actors intervening in crisis contexts, we have explored how this diversity is reflected in the way Be more than a spectator of the show: the Humanitarian Encyclopedia is a collaborative project engaging humanitarian actors and researchers alike.
